Are you a Millennial (aka Gen Y) or Gen X employee wanting to improve your leadership skills to excel faster in your career? Are you ready to achieve personal and professional goals that exceed your own expectations? Call Coach Lisa!

Lisa's Leadership Coaching for Millennials (18 to 29 years old)

I work with Millennials who are focused on wanting to: Advance into a management or supervisory role at work; improve their skills in their current management or supervisory role; build their personal brand as an exceptional leader in the workforce; transition from a manager to a leader mentality (which will benefit you your entire career); create and achieve personal and professional goals; and gain confidence, and respect, as a young leader at work!

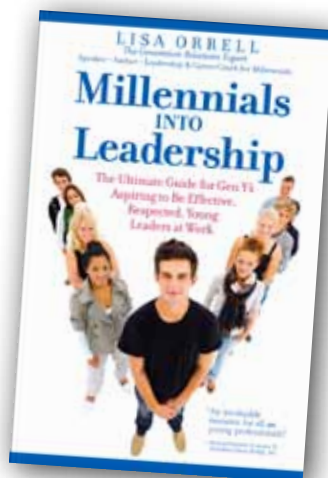

Lisa's Leadership Coaching for Gen X (30-35 years old)

I work with younger Gen X professionals who: Want to excel professionally; want to achieve greater personal and professional fulfillment; want to sharpen their leadership skills to improve employee morale, retention, and productivity; and who are stuck in a manager mindset, and not a leadership mindset...do you know the difference? I do! And it's critical to your career success.

KEY POINT: All one-on-one coaching with Coach Lisa is private & confidential!

CALL COACH LISA TO:

- Be Your Personal Leadership Coach
- Conduct Leadership Seminars, Workshops & Keynotes
- Provide A Leadership Coaching Program for Your Gen Y & Gen X Employees

"As a young, female, attorney, hiring Coach Lisa was one of the best career decisions I've made so far. I didn't know much about what a 'coach' did, but now I do. Lisa not only helped me grow rapidly personally and professionally in the short term, but what I learned from her will also benefit me my entire career."

— Rebecca A., Tax Attorney, 27-Years old
